

BULLBOX Management is aware of their commitment with their clients, supplies, employees and with the society as a whole as a result of its activity.

BULLBOX aims to be considered a benchmark company in management and control of manufacturing and transformation of containers. Trading and rental of containers hence the Management is committed to implement, maintain, review and update a Quality Management System making the continuous improvement one of its main corporate values.

In order to achieve the above the Management has established this Quality Management System which will be documented, shared and place at the disposal of the interested parties and staff.

In addition, the Management is committed to facilitate the means to review, modify and update it in accordance with BULLBOX's requirements, as well as communicate its principles to interested parties and to use it as a reference to establish its objectives and goals.

The Quality Policy System is based in the following premises:

- Customers loyalty and satisfaction as well as the compliance with the requirements and needs of other interested parties (suppliers, collaborators and other parties involved).
- Search for well-being of our workers and focus on quality of our services working in continuous improvement.
- Clear and continuous communication with clients and other parties to include their input in the improvement of our products and services.
- Commitment to comply with the applicable legislation as well as those voluntarily subscribed.
- Efficiency improvement in the quality process of the company's activities.
- To facilitate the adaptation of the company to a changing world assisting with the necessary training of its employees.
- Encouragement of a working environment which facilitates teamwork and personal and professional development of its employees.
- Commitment of the Managing team to apply these guidelines ensuring that the quality policy is shared, understood and accepted in the organisation.
- Regular review of the compliance with the objectives stated by the Quality System Management.
